Here's something you may not have known: The Ferrari California was offered with a manual transmission. And I'm not referring to the 1960s Ferrari California, the one in "Ferris Bueller's Day Off," that's worth forty zillion dollars. I mean the modern California, which came out in 2009. The vast majority of California models used a dual-clutch automatic transmission, which was a novel feature at the time — and, if I recall correctly, the California was the first Ferrari to use it.
